Heart Disease Curable.

The truth of this statement may be doubted by many, but when Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist, claims that heart disease is curable and proves it by thousands of testimonials of wonderful cures by his new heart cure, it attracts the attention of the millions suffering with short breath, palpitation, irregular pulse, weak stomach, pain in side or shoulder, smothering spells, fainting, dizziness, &c. A. F. Davis, Silver Creek, Nebraska, by using four bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, was completely cured after twelve years suffering from heart disease. This wonderful remedy is sold by J. W. Gayle. Books free. 5

Large Crowd Here.

The largest court day crowd which has been here for several months was in town Monday, Main and St. Clair streets presented a lively appearance and you could buy most anything on the street, from a dead man's clothes to a piano or a steam engine, but most of the people were too busy talking politics to think of much else and prices ruled low. Hon. W. C. Owens addressed a large crowd at the Court House in the afternoon, winding up his canvass as a candidate for Congress. W. H. Posey, Master Commissioner, sold the following property: The west end of the Mansion House block, fronting forty-six feet on Main street, to R. Tobin for $4,077.50. Lot of land in Bald Knob precinct to Jos. Scroff for $2,912.80. Seven acres of land near the Owen county line to T. J. Hardin for $123.80.

A Physician

Seldom recommends a proprietary medicine. A great many use our Household Remedies both in their families and in their practice. Dr. N. L. Reynolds, of Eureka, Ill., writes us that he has had occasion to use Dr. Hale's Household Ointment in several cases of burns and thinks it has few equals. He writes he has also used the Dr. Hale's Household Tea in his own family and finds it is so good that he cannot afford to do without it. It is the great blood purifier and nerve tonic. Positively cures scurvy, constipation, biliousness, etc. 25 and 50 cents per package at F. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

Election Echoes.

Editor Roundabout:

In the case of Batman vs. Megowan (1 Metcalf, 533) and of Cox vs. Nash (1 Bush, 201; 14 Bush, 668), where two of the county board appointed by law to count the votes cast at an election are candidates for office, they can not act, and their places must be supplied by the two magistrates nearest the county seat. This does not seem to have been done in this county. Why?

In the Gas House precinct, in the city contested election case, Judge Williams took the ground that the officers could not amend their returns after leaving the polling place. He appears to have changed his opinion in the recent election as to the Benson precinct. He also seems to have forgotten to appoint Mr. Wm. Wright as judge at the Capital Hotel precinct in place of Mr. Boone, a candidate, as he agreed to do.

The refusal to allow a representative of Judge Denny to witness the count of the certificates of election was singular, to say the least. The law does not authorize such refusal. It designates who shall make the count, but does not require nor intimate that their proceedings shall be secret. The fact that the law does not give a right to demand to be present does not justify the refusal of a common courtesy. Judge Hoke, at Louisville, did considerable damage to his party by similar partisan proceedings.

Every Member of Hiram Lodge, Attention.

"She."

A fine treat is in store for the amusement loving people next week. A. Y. Pearson's big scenic production "She," will be the attraction at the Opera House, Friday night, November 16th. The dramatization of "She" as presented by Mr. Pearson's company, is from the pen of Mr. Edwin Barbour, author of the "Legal Document," "The Land of the Midnight Sun" and "The District Fair," and is said to be the finest ever produced; the scenes and situations are grand. The story as told by Ha-gard is developed in every particular, and the strange characters, only heard of in fiction, are depicted in real life.

Ilaggard's story opens in the nineteenth century, while Mr. Barbour's goes beyond and opens his play 440 years before Christ, giving to the public the characters in life that Ha-gard only mentioned as mythical. The mechanical effects are startling, showing a real live person slipping into a volcanic flame, and in an instant, before the very eyes, is shriveled into a mummy. The scenery used in the play is the handsomest ever painted for a production of this kind, and covers some 16,000 feet of canvas. The company, numbering twenty-five people, are picked from the best ranks of the profession and are selected for their individual ability, to portray the characters for which they are cast. The play has an abundance of comedy that keeps the audience in good humor throughout and, with several small specialties introduced, the performance cannot but be pleasing to all.

The bride, who is one of the most charming young ladies of Cedar Run, was lovely attired in light grey serge and carried white chrysanthemums, the groom was dressed in the usual black. The church, which was darkened and had the lamps lighted, was handsomely decorated with evergreen and cut flowers. Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple left for their future home in Owen county, where a reception was given them by the groom's parents. FAST FRIENDS.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,

been thoroughly fumigated and all danger of contracting the disease in that quarter is passed.

Sunday Opening.

Beginning to-morrow the post-office will be closed during the hours for service in the different churches on Sunday, and the general delivery will be open only from 1:30 to 2:30 and from 5:15 to 6:15 p. m.

Will Change Its Name.

Squire Pat. McDonald gives notice in this week's issue of his paper that on the first of January he will change the name of the Western Argus to the Yeoman, and will greatly improve the paper.

She Committed Suicide.

Mrs. F. C. Cope, of Paris, left this letter: "My husband—Forgive me if I cause you trouble, but I suffer so. You do not know what these long wakeful, wretched nights are to me, and I am so tired, darling—the pain will never be better. It is not easy to take my own life, but I have been sick so long. Goodbye, my husband. I love you—your wife." This is one of the thousands that gives up, instead of using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and being speedily cured of their wretchedness. Go to J. W. Gayle and get an elegant book and trial bottle free.

Each leaflet or banner consists of four panels beautifully decorated in colors and gold, attached by ribbons of appropriate colors, combined with elegant extracts from popular authors, and enclosed in decorated envelopes. Fac-simile of artists' original designs.

Miss Irene Jerome's happy faculty in grouping and interpreting beautiful thoughts by means of colored and illuminated designs is highly appreciated by all book-buyers and her work is welcomed by all lovers of the beautiful. Her precious creations "One Year's Sketch-book," "Nature's Hallelujah," "A Bunch of Violets," "In a Fair Country," "Sun prints in Sky tints," "The Message of the Bluebird" and "From an Old Love-letter" are the popular illustrated books published in this century, and welcomed by people of artistic taste in all walks of life. And now, following her late success in illuminated color work "I have called you Friends" we have a new revelation of the resources of her genius, and one well adapted to grace and beautify the beloved homes of our land.—Lee & Shepard, Publishers, Boston.

Haunted!

A haunted house in these practical and unromantic days is something of a rarity, but an individual haunted with the idea that his ailment is incurable is a personage frequently met with. Doubtless in the ability of medicine to cure is only a mild form of monomania, although in some cases repeated failures to obtain relief from many different sources would almost seem to justify the doubt. Doctor's Stomach Bitters has demonstrated its ability to overcome dyspepsia, constipation, liver and kidney trouble, malarial complaints and nervousness, and its record of achievements in the curative line ought at least to warrant its trial by anyone troubled with either of the above ailments, even although his previous efforts to obtain remedial aid have been fruitless. Feed with persistence, the Bitters will conquer the most obstinate cases.

Come and look through our entire line, cost nothing, see lots. MEAGHER & MARSHALL.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class mailable matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

Sure Reward for the Observance of the Sabbath.

See 58th chapter of Isaiah, 13th and 14th verses.

"If thou turn away thy feet from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on My holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shalt honor Him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure nor speaking thine own words:"

"Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause the high places of the earth and feed thee on the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

Sunday Closing.

They err who think the present effort to stop business in Frankfort on Sunday has in it any spirit of force or dictation. It rests purely on the ground of "free consent." The merchants are closing of their own free will, and are entering voluntarily into such an agreement with each other. And they are doing it cheerfully and heartily. Even the law is not invoked to aid the movement. On the part of our citizens all that is asked is, that they thoughtfully lay in their Sunday supplies on Saturday and keep on doing it till it becomes chronic and habitual with them. After all the permanent success of the movement is dependent on them. If they will so change their habits as to obtain from all Sunday traffic, Sunday closing will be assured. We earnestly urge them to do so. There is no need of any but the kindest feeling in regard to the matter, and we do not anticipate that so good a work, commanding so unusually the approval of this community, will be at all liable to failure.

Large Vegetables.

Mr. Z. T. Parrent, of Bridgeport, brought to this office on Tuesday the largest home-grown head of cabbage we have seen in a long time, and is a wonderful production for the dry season we have had. It measured three feet around, weighed seven pounds and was as solid as a brick. Now if there is anything that Mrs. ROUNDABOUT does love, and which brings out the German in her composition more strongly than anything else, it is cabbage, and when we took that great big head home, Taylor, you should have seen her smile. It would have done your heart good. She has been feasting on it ever since and returns numerous thanks.

Mr. Lid. Hawkins, of the same neighborhood, also brought us a mammoth turnip raised by himself which measured two feet around. It was of the Flat Dutch variety, sweet and finely flavored. It was large enough to furnish several dishes for our table.

Until a More Convenient Time.

The King Bridge Company, their representative or sub-contractor, who has been at work since early in the summer removing the old St. Clair street bridge piers from the river, quit work on the job Saturday, having taken down the middle pier to the right depth, according to the city engineers' measurement, but left the piers nearest the shores about eighteen inches or two feet higher than the depth to which the contract requires them to be removed. The claim is made on the part of the company that hands cannot be employed to work in the water this time of the year and that the work will have to be completed during warm weather next year. The work has been done in the slowest and hardest way, and we understand that some of the hands have not been paid for several weeks' work performed. If this is true, it must be the real reason that hands cannot be employed. The city is still holding back twenty-seven hundred dollars due the company on account of the new bridge and it would be a good idea to hold on to it, for it looks like the city or the Government will have to remove the balance of the piers, if they are ever taken out. The city and county have gotten the hot end of the bargain in nearly all their transactions with the King people and it appears very much as if this part of the contract was to be dropped on them.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

To —.

Through the fields the brooklets playing
Murmur gently as they flow;
Canst thou tell what they are saying—
Whispered words of peace or war?
And the hills and meadows ringing
With the song of merry birds;
Thou hast listened to their singing;
Hast thou put the notes to words?
At the dawn the roses drinking
Nectar from the sparkling dew;
Hast thou passed them by unthinking—
Have they ever spoke to you?
And the day in splendor breaking—
Yea there secrets thou canst prove,
All the world is daily speaking,
If thy heart is filled with Love.

Assaulted by a Brute.

Mr. Mack Blaney, of this city, who is a student of Centre College, Danville, attended the game of football between the Centre College team and Louisville Athletic Club in Louisville Saturday. A row occurred among the players, when the crowd rushed on the grounds. Mack went along and of course yelled for his side when a big fellow by the name of Perdue, one of the Louisville players who had been hurt and put out of the game, singled him out and ordered him off the field. Mac told him to put him off, when the fellow struck him and Mack whacked him over the head with his cane until he broke the stick. The pitty is he did not break the brute's head instead, as he is nothing but a boy and the attack on him was cowardly.

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.

From High Government Authority.

No authority of greater experience on food products exists than Dr. Henry A. Mott, of New York. Dr. Mott's wide experience as Government Chemist for the Indian Department, gave him exceptional opportunities to acquaint himself with the qualities and constituent parts of baking powders. He understands thoroughly the comparative value of every brand in the market, and has from time to time expressed his opinion thereof. On a recent careful re-examination and analysis he finds superior to all others in strength, purity, and efficiency. Dr. Mott writes:—

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

"New York, March 20th, 1894.

I find Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be superior to all others, for the following reasons:—

1st. It liberates the greatest amount of leavening gas and is consequently more efficient.

2nd. The ingredients used in its preparation are of the purest character.

3rd. Its keeping qualities are excellent.

4th. On account of the purity of the materials and their relative proportions, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder must be considered the acme of perfection as regards wholesomeness and efficiency, and I say this having in mind certificates I have given several years ago respecting two other baking powders.

The reasons for the change in my opinion are based on the above facts and the new method adopted to prevent your baking powder from caking and deteriorating in strength.

HENRY A. MOTT, Ph. D., L. L. D."

DISAPPEARING.

The Dreadful Disease, Diphtheria, has Nearly Left the City.

The diphtheria epidemic which has prevailed here for several months, is passing away—only two cases yet remain, both of which are in South Frankfort and are convalescent—no new cases have made their appearance in more than a week and there no longer remains cause for the alarm felt by many. The country people, who have been kept away from town on account of the disease prevailing here, can come to the city with impunity as there is not the slightest danger of their carrying seeds of the disease home to their little ones. The city today is as healthy as any place of its size in the country, the business part of town has had but two cases in it, both of which have entirely recovered, the houses in which they occurred have been thoroughly disinfected, and our country friends can feel perfectly safe in coming to see us. Come in and buy your fall supplies from our merchants and liven up business again.

Made a Fine Race.

The race Mr. McKenzie Todd made for magistrate is certainly a very creditable one, considering the fact that he had two candidates in his own party running against him and also a campaign in which money and other sinews of war were prominent features of the opposition.

His opponent, Mr. Gaines, majority, according to the official count, is 11 votes, and fully 200 Republican votes were not cast.

It is the common expression among the members of all parties that Mr. Todd's race was phenomenal. This only goes to show what a young man can do when he conducts a campaign in an honorable way.

Mr. Todd's friends in both parties are proud of his race and it has caused much comment on our streets.

Mr. Todd will now settle down to the practice of his profession and will shortly open an office in the Todd building, near the new bridge. He is a graduate of the Law Department University of Michigan and we predict for him a brilliant future in the practice of his profession.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the meeting of Hiram Lodge, No. 4, A. Y. M., held Thursday evening, the committee heretofore appointed reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Hiram Lodge, No. 4:

BRETHREN: Inasmuch as it has pleased the Great Architect of the universe, in his infinite wisdom and mercy, to permit the "all devouring sythe of time" to invade our ranks and cut the brittle thread and launch our beloved brother, Lee S. Church, into eternity, there to await our coming: be it

Resolved, That in his death this Lodge has lost a faithful member and a brother worthy of the name of a Mason; that this Lodge deeply regrets his untimely death, and his brethren mourn; and

Resolved, That this lodge sympathize with the bereaved family and mourning friends in their affliction; that in their affliction we are reminded "that in the midst of life we are in death" and "from dust we came and to dust we must return." Be it further

Resolved, That we cherish his memory in our archives, that a page of our records be dedicated to his memory, that these resolutions be published in our city papers, that a copy thereof be sent to his family.

For the Season of '94.

The distilleries in this section are beginning operations for the season of 1894. The first mash was made at the Old Taylor distillery on Thursday, the Cedar Run distillery will commence running December 1st and the J. N. Blakemore house on Thursday next, the 15th. The season will likely be a very short one, as the whiskey market is very dull.

W. A. McGuire, a well-known citizen of McKay, Ohio, is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon affected a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by PHIL CARPENTER, South Side Drugist.

THE NEW F. F. V. LIMITED.

Commencing Sunday, May 13th, the F. F. V. Limited will leave Cincinnati daily at 12:20 noon, arriving at Washington at 7:40 a. m., Baltimore 9:00 a. m., Philadelphia 11:20 a. m. and New York 1:40 p. m. The train will consist of Composite Car, Elegant Day Coach, with Smoking Compartment, Dining Car, Pullman Sleeping Cars of the latest and most improved design, and an Observation Car. Emphasis is especially placed on the Observation Car. Built by the Pullman Company from Chesapeake and Ohio plans, the F. F. V. Observation Cars serve their purpose better than any others that have ever been constructed.

As the F. F. V. Limited is the only train having an Observation Car attached, it necessarily follows that the Chesapeake and Ohio R'y alone has scenery interesting enough to demand an Observation Car. The F. F. V. Limited is the only train running through from Cincinnati to New York that enables the business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and New York the next. It is the only train for Jersey City Coast resorts, which are reached by the F. F. V. at dinner time instead of in the evening. It is the only train that enables business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and reach Washington for breakfast the next morning. It is the most desirable train for New England resorts, connections being made in the Union Depot in Washington with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p. m., New London 5:30 p. m., Providence 7:15 p. m. and Boston 8:30 p. m. The F. F. V. is the only modern train lighted throughout with Electricity, carrying a Dining Car and an Observation Car.

The Washington and Atlantic Express, also an Electric Lighted Vestibuled train, will leave Cincinnati at 7:00 p. m., reaching Washington 2:40 p. m. and Old Point Comfort 6:00 p. m. Connection is made at Washington with the Boston Express or the Limited, reaching New York about 9:00 p. m. At Norfolk connection is made with the Old Dominion Steamship Line, reaching New York 3:00 p. m. the next day.

Politics.

Amidst the changes of politics and the disappointments of political ambitions, it is gratifying to know that the sun still shines—provided, it isn't a cloudy day. Why should man vex his soul over the shadowy phenomena of office? Don't we all know that politicians will lie and cheat and steal if it is necessary to win? That is, if they can't get into office any other way. Don't understand us to say that all politicians will lie, cheat, &c.—for that would be unfair and too broad—but generally, mostly, on the whole, a politician that is in a tight place will wink at acts that in business life he would call by bad names.

We have known good men, church members, men that would not take advantage of you in a trade for all the earth, tell white lies to benefit some political party to which they belong. It is sad that this is so, but is so, and more's the pity.

In the general upheaval of politics, this is a good time to confess sins and promise to do better. The defeated are in a penitential mood and the successful are softened and ready to forgive and forget. Can't all come together on a common ground and be ready to drive the money changers from the temple of liberty and introduce honesty and uprightness as the best incentives of action? Let us try.

The fishing season is rapidly drawing to a close. The dull, cold, raw days of November are at hand, and down under the rocks and in the deep holes the bronzed back bass are making their winter beds. Never before have so many and so handsome fish been caught in Elk Horn and Kentucky river as this fall. If the nets, seines, traps and spears could be suppressed for one more year, everyone could get fish as a prime article of food. It is a delicious, delicate, dainty appetizer and a fine brain supply. Lots of souls need more brains just now.

Diphtheria appears to be on the decrease now in the city. It has done sad work in some households and caused fear and apprehension in others. What diphtheria is, and what its unmistakable symptoms, perhaps the doctors can tell. We don't know. Colds, tonsillitis, laryngitis and other throat affections, all concentrate into diphtheria when the latter is epidemic. What's the difference if the trouble is cured or proves fatal? A rose by any other name smells as sweet.

As the leaves fade and fall and the wind comes sighing and sighing through the trees it brings to memory the days ago when footsteps sounded on the streets of Frankfort that long ago ceased to be heard. Who doesn't remember Col. Rennick and his cane; who doesn't remember Uncle Nels. Alley and his sneeze; who doesn't remember Dr. Mills and his nervous laugh; who forgets Uncle Billy Gray and his tooth pick; who can't remember Dick Tate and his jokes; who forgets Tom Heffner and his butter milk and onions; who can wipe out Uncle Johnnie Baltzell and his cane; what fisherman can't recall Uncle Jack Bibb and his frog bait; who dare forget the passenger on passing train that couldn't wait till Uncle Wm. Callery went down in the cellar to get him a drink; who forgets Uncle Jno. Henderson and his low wheeled vehicle; who can ignore the time when Mr. Swigert's house got very hot; but why repeat the things that bring back to us the dear, delightful, precious memories of the good old times and good people gone beyond recall? We can't live life over but once. The Frankfort of the past is beyond mortal touch, except as we wipe off the dust and bring the old pictures once more to the light.

More than a hundred souls who gave to Frankfort its light and life twenty years ago are now resting in the shade on the other side of the dark river. Twenty years hence the men of to-day will have followed them.

The glimpses of better times, of days when labor will have its reward and capital get a chance for investment, are coming to us through the rifted clouds of depression. The light can't break on the country any too soon.

Rose Coghlan.

That sterling combination of players known as the Coghlan Company will begin an engagement at the Opera House, Saturday, Nov. 17, presenting here for the first time their production of Sardou's brilliant comedy, "Diplomacy." Miss Rose Coghlan deserves the success she has achieved by her revival of this play, which has possibly never had a more artistic representation. Each and every character is entrusted to an actor or actress of recognized ability, and in consequence a perfect performance may be looked for. An exchange says: "Diplomacy" is in many respects the strongest of Sardou's works. It combines all the qualities which are essential in a thoroughly successful play—ingenuity of plot, simplicity and yet effectiveness of construction, diversity of action, sequence and consequence in incidental and episodic illustration; possibility and plausibility, individualization of character, much human sympathy and sustained dramatic interest. In the very first scene of the play the thread of the story is taken up and it is never dropped until the final curtain falls. "Diplomacy" differs considerably from Sardou's later plays. When he wrote this fine comedy he had no actress or playhouse in view, and in consequence his characters are constructed on the lines of truth. There is no centralization of situation or dialogue, each and every part being complete in itself. "Fedora," "Theodora," "La Tosca" and "Cleopatra" are one part plays, and doubt they have paid Mr.

Sardou better than "Diplomacy" or "A Scrap of Paper," yet they have added nothing to his fame as a dramatist. "Diplomacy" has enjoyed a long life. It was first produced in Paris under the title of "Dora." The American rights were purchased by Mr. Lester Wallack and produced by him at his theatre in New York City, on which occasion Miss Rose Coghlan created (in this country) the part of the Countess Zicka, with which she has ever since been identified. Revivals of "Diplomacy" have been numerous, but none of them have been accorded the favor bestowed upon the Coghlan Company's production. Miss Coghlan's portrayal of the subtle, crafty and cunning Russian adventures has gained her much applause. In all the cities where she has appeared in the past the critics claim it is her greatest characterization.

Josiah Allen's Wife,

The famous authoress of "My Opinions" and "Honey Bobetta," states that she owes her freedom from colds and general good health during the winter season to the use of Dr. Hale's Household Ointment which she regards as the greatest medicine of the age. Old Dr. Hale having been her physician years ago gives her great confidence in all of Dr. Hale's Household remedies, the best in the world. Sold by P.H. CARPENTER.
